

5 Practical Tips To Help Your Larger Clients Feel Welcome

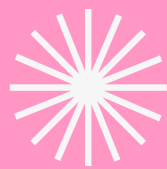

Staff ability: Trained to use size-inclusive language, be sensitive to perceptions of bias and know how to offer good care to people of all sizes

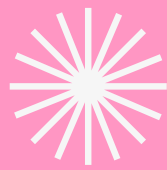

Ensure comfort and safety: Provide a safe and comfortable space for the client to sit or lie down, considering furniture width and safe working loads.

Size-appropriate supplies: Examples include gowns, towels, and drapery suitable for the persons size.

Evaluate patient positioning: Plan for alternative positions if a patient can't safely assume the typical treatment or examination positions.

Plan the care route: Map a clear path from the carpark through the facility, assessing access points and safe working loads.
